ACTION SHOT OF A
NEW ENGLAND LIFE
AGENT

Big moment for "Buck" Hubbard and Eriez as insured pension plan is launched

The Eriez Manufacturing Company of Erie, Pennsylvania, world-wide suppliers of magnetic equipment, now has a top-notch retirement program. It is one of New England Life's insured pension plans which provide liberal benefits at low net cost.

Buckley Hubbard (Pennsylvania, '46) developed the plan and sold its advantages to Eriez executives. The moment pictured above typifies the year-round satisfaction any New England Life agent gets from helping people make a better life for themselves.

He meets top-level people like President Robert F. Merwin and Controller James K. Brydon of Eriez (l. to r. above). His service and ideas have recognized value to his clients. He is rewarded by a steadily growing business. This company's pension plan, for example, is expected to expand considerably.

There's room in the New England Life picture for other ambitious college men who meet our requirements. You get comprehensive training. You get income while you're learning. You can work almost anywhere in the U. S. A. Your future is full of sizable rewards.

You can get more information about this career opportunity by writing Vice President L. M. Huppeler, 501 Boylston Street, Boston 17, Mass.

COVER—In his five years as alumni chief executive, Bill Flynn, '39, welded the scattered sons of B.C. into a cohesive, generous unit (viz. he helped raise more Alumni Fund $ than had ever been raised before.) Now as Athletic Director, he's charged with developing a modern new athletic program on the Heights. See Shape of Things to Come on P. 5.

He Really Enjoyed Alumni Day

With Joe are Dick Keating '42, John Larner, '43 and Joe Dineen '43.

If Joe Murphy, '43, missed several Alumni Days the last few years, he had the best of excuses. He literally couldn't move a muscle.

Hit by polio in 1953, Joe has been fighting back from complete immobility. It took him a year to wiggle his toe, another year to grip a hand and shake. And only recently has he graduated from a respirator.

But you can't keep a good Irishman down. Friends had supplied the special bed-chair that allows Joe to be transported, via station wagon, outside the hospital. Hence, when '43 classmates John Larner, Frank Power, Joe Dineen and Tom O. C. Murray proposed he join them on Alumni Day—Well, his answer's in the picture.

Joe, who is unmarried, was office manager for a sales consultant when he was stricken—he has every intention of picking up where he left off, one of these days. He bones up on business publications, keeps in contact with business associates by exchanging tape recordings, and he types his own notes and letters.

At the Heights, Joe didn't make the football team, but he did make the Glee and Dramatic Clubs. A Navy Lieut. during the war, he spent most of his tour in Alaska.

Why not drop him a line, wish his luck in his battle? His address: Veterans Administration Hospital, South Huntington Avenue, Boston.

Freshmen skipping senior high school, Sophs skipping freshman year, Junior year in Europe, no conditions, passing average C—...these are items in

Ratio Studiorum Up To Date

by William V. E. Casey, S.J.

An institution that does not periodically take a hard look at itself and refresh its traditions in the light of modern needs cannot long resist the twin blights of complacency and mediocrity. The law of growth and development is inexorable: "Preserve and adapt—or perish."

The problem of preservation and adaptation is a delicate one, especially for an institution such as Boston College whose triple tradition (Catholic, Jesuit and American) is deeply rooted in successive layers of history. In each of these traditions the permanent must be discerned in the transitory so that the best of the past can be mediated to the best of the present. The really vital institution thinks looking backward and lives looking forward. Only in this way can it communicate the wisdom of its traditions to today's world in the modern idiom.

It was in this spirit that the President of the University, Father Joseph Maxwell, S.J., three years ago commissioned some forty members of the Faculty of the College of Arts and Sciences to take a long and searching look at that College and report their findings to him. A year later—hundreds of meetings and thousands of work-hours later—this group presented to the President a report of 300 pages that touched on every aspect of the College's life and work—and charted the course of the College of Arts and Sciences for many years to come.

Approved by the administrators of the College, here are some of the changes that are already underway.

FRESHMEN PHILOSOPHY

Starting with this year's Freshman class, a revised curriculum will be inaugurated in the College of Arts and Sciences. The major item of this revision is the re-distribution of the Philosophy courses, so that henceforth the study of Philosophy will begin in Freshman year and be spread over the four years according to the following plan: Freshman—Logic and Epistemology; Sophomore—General and Special Metaphysics; Junior—Psychology I and II; Senior—General and Special Ethics and the History of Modern Philosophy. This is the first major revision of our curriculum in many years and it is confidently expected to provide a better balance for the whole program of studies in the modern American Jesuit college and consequently prove of special benefit in the intellectual development of our students.

This shift in the Philosophy courses means that the student will be introduced at the very beginning of his college career to a precise and demanding science whose ideas and principles pervade every other course in the curriculum. His contact with Philosophy over a four-year period will allow for a more gradual and therefore better assimilation of its content and method. Many reasons dictated this change in the Philosophy program, but one of the most compelling was the realization that the student will now be in contact throughout his four years with both Theology and Philosophy, which form the solid and secure core of Catholic, Jesuit and liberal education.

REVISED CURRICULUM

The shift in the Philosophy courses provided us with the occasion for some other adjustments in the rest of the curriculum. A brief and general idea of these changes can be gained from the following summary of our four-year curriculum: Freshman—English, Philosophy, Theology, Foreign Language (ancient or modern), Mathematics, Science (Physics or Chemistry or Biology); Sophomore—English, Philosophy, Theology, History, Foreign Language, field of concentration (one course); Junior—Philosophy, Theology, History, field of concentration (three courses); Senior—Philosophy, Theology, History of Modern Philosophy (half-course), History of Art or Music (half-course), field of concentration (three courses).

Of the twenty-four courses, therefore, that the student must take for his degree, seventeen, or 70 per cent, of these will be required courses in the general and basic liberal arts subjects. The remaining seven courses, 30 per cent will be in the student's special field of concentration. Here his choice can fall upon a wide variety of fields: English, Classics, Modern Languages, Biology, Chemistry, Physics, Mathematics, History, Political Science, Philosophy, Economics, Sociology and Psychology. The student is thus firmly grounded in the fundamental intellectual and liberal disciplines and at the same time he is given enough specialization in his field of concentration so that he is well equipped to go on to graduate study in any university in the country.

A.B. WITHOUT LATIN

The Jesuit Colleges of the United States are practically alone today in their insistence on the requirement of Latin for the A. B. degree. It seems quite likely, however, that within the year even these Colleges will be granting the A. B. to certain programs without Latin. This does not mean, of course, that Latin will be dropped from the College. Greek, for example, was eliminated as a requirement for the A. B. degree many years ago, but last year we had 76 Freshmen and Sophomores enrolled in Greek courses. And so we will always offer Latin and encourage our students to take it as their foreign language, but it will be chosen by the student who wants this language for its own sake and not simply because he would prefer an A. B. rather than a B. S. degree.

This extension of the A. B. degree to programs without Latin will not include students in undergraduate professional schools; it will be offered only to students enrolled in programs of the traditional arts and sciences where the field of concentration has been liberal or scholarly or strictly academic. Within the near future, therefore, we expect that students who graduate from the College of Arts and Sciences will be awarded the degree of A. B., and that the present requirement of Latin for this degree will be discontinued.

HONORS PROGRAM

The problem of special handling of superior or gifted students is one that is increasingly occupying the time and attention of American educators. More and more programs are being devised to break the lockstep of the present academic convoy. As one educator has written: "If mass education does not result in complete mediocrity, as it now threatens to become, some drastic provision must be made for the education of students of intellectual promise and potential leadership, who right now are overshadowed, in most cases, by the hand-minded, the mediocre and the lotus-eaters."

In recent years, Boston College has had an Honors course for A. B. Greek students only, but beginning with this year's Freshman class, an Honors Program will be expanded to include students majoring in every field of concentration. An Honors Program beginning in Freshman will necessarily be a program for candidates for Honors, inasmuch as some students will be dropped at the end of that year and others who have proved capable and willing will be admitted to the program.

This new Honors Program will be twofold: first in the student's fundamental liberal arts courses, and then in the courses of his department of concentration. Following the advice of Cardinal Newman that "no matter how much a faculty can do for a student, it is as nothing compared to what he can do for himself," the Honors student, under the more personal guidance of seminars and tutorials, will be freed from many of the common administrative restraints and thrown more upon his own resources and initiative for independent study.

ACCELERATED PROGRAMS

There is a growing sentiment among educational leaders against the overextended length of our system of education from the elementary grades through college. To some extent the students themselves share this sentiment. Perhaps the rise in the marriage rate among college students, as well as the large numbers that engage in extensive work for money during college years, is their form of protest against the lengthy and expensive educational process that we have devised for them. Some radical plans have been suggested for reducing our overemphasis on education, such as the 6-3-3 division of the years of schooling as a substitute for the present division of 8-4-4. Because of the traditional conservatism of the public, it is unlikely that such schemes will succeed, but at present two plans are being tried in the effort to lop off at least one year from the system.

The first plan, early admission, enables the student to come directly from his Junior year in high school to Freshman year in college. The plan has worked very well, but it has not proved too popular with the high schools. However, we are very willing to accept for the Freshman year in the College of Arts and Sciences any high school Junior who has the potential for this early admission. Our limited experience with this form of acceleration has been very successful. One such student graduated last year with an A- average and is now in graduate school; another will graduate this year with a B+ average and will enter medical school.

The second plan, advanced placement, is relatively new and shows signs of gaining a more popular reception than the plan of early admission. In this plan the entering Freshman is placed immediately in the Sophomore year of college, if he has demonstrated the aptitude, the achievement and the maturity for such advancement. Last year we experimented with this plan and it succeeded so well that we will widen it during the coming years as much as the quality of our applicants allows. One of these "advanced" Freshmen completed his Sophomore studies (including Junior Philosophy) with a cumulative average of A, ranked third in the Sophomore class and will finish his collegiate work in three years with the high probability of graduating summa cum laude.

ACADEMIC STANDARDS

College students today are, in general, a bright, serious and determined group. They have already run a highly competitive race to get into college; they set up a comparably competitive pace for each other while in college. One result of this competition is that the College is now closer than ever to the realization of its ideal as a community of scholars and their disciples devoted to the pursuit of the intellectual life.

Another product of this fast competitive pace among the undergraduates is that the Administrative Board of the College of Arts and Sciences has been forced to make some changes in the scholastic standards of the College. For example, all applicants must now take the aptitude tests as well as the achievement tests of the College Entrance Examination Board. This gives the College a better picture of our applicants on a national scale and helps us to select those students most likely to succeed in an intellectual environment that has become more and more demanding.

The grading system has been changed so that more emphasis is now placed on the student's work outside of class and the professor's judgment upon the quality of that work. The conditional examination, that old and comfortable crutch of the indolent and the indecisive, has been irrevocably discarded. And finally, the Board has instituted this year a warning and probation system, so that students who continue to waste their talents and opportunities, along with their parents' money and our time, will be dropped from the College, if their cumulative grade average falls below C- for two semesters.

At present, student mortality in the College is somewhat below the national average, which is itself quite high. We want very much to bring it down to a very low level, and this we plan to do by means of a more selective admissions policy and a better rescue service operating through our newly organized counseling and guidance program.

Last May the College announced that it would begin to accept applications for its Junior Year in Europe Program for this present academic year. In this Program, those students who have the maturity, the balance, the scholastic record (and the money!) will be allowed to do their Junior year in Europe at certain universities in France, Switzerland, Spain, Italy, Germany, Belgium and Austria. This Program provides an unusual opportunity for the better students to pursue their studies for a year in one of the great centers of Western culture, to master one or more European languages and to achieve that cosmopolitan point of view that comes from a prolonged residence in Europe.

Within two days after the announcement of this Program we received seven applications from this year's Junior class. Four of these students met the necessary requirements and are now studying in Europe: one at the University of Louvain in Belgium, two at the University of Fribourg in Switzerland and one at the University of Vienna. Three of these four students are campus boarders from outside Massachusetts and they are a representative cross section of the desirable type of student that is now being attracted to the College by the recently expanded boarding facilities on campus.

These, then, are some of the academic projects, plans and experiments that are currently boiling merrily in the College of Arts and Sciences. The old is still here, but it is wearing the garments of 1957. "New things as well as old." "Non nova sed noviter." These must be part of the ethos of every college in order to keep it alive and sensitive to the legitimate aspirations of the present as well as the permanent wisdom of the past.

SHAPE OF THINGS TO COME

by Bill Flynn

It is a pleasure to report that the Stadium is being completed on schedule—final deadline: Saturday, Sept. 21, 1:30 P.M., purpose—to beat Navy at christening ceremonies. The gymnasium which, for obvious reasons, will consume more time in construction will be ready for dedication in the late spring, if all goes well.

This is all rather amazing when you consider that in a little more than a year we will have moved our varsity sports activities back to the campus, and at the same time provided improved and expanded facilities for our intramural sports program.

When you see the new stadium, I predict you'll be quite pleased not only with its beautiful and convenient setting, you'll also cheer because there are no "poor" seats. There are no posts to obstruct the view, no weird elevations to interfere with the view.

Here are some assorted specifications on the new Alumni Stadium—and I hope you'll be out to inspect it personally soon:

Seating Capacity — We still have our fingers crossed, hope to hit 25,000.

Playing Surface — Tough, hardy turf built up from transplanted sods. Authorities assure me it'll be as green and beautiful as my front lawn should be.

Scoreboard — We're proud of this. A big, modern electronic beauty surmounted by a gold eagle. It'll be run from the press box.

Game-time — The N.C.A.A. recommends 1:30 and we'll go along. Reason: get home in daylight.

Parking — Facilities for 3000 autos—as far as we know one of the biggest and handiest parking spaces in New England.

Homecoming — This isn't really a stadium spec. but it's a new tradition beginning this year. First occasion: Oct. 12th at the Dayton game, and I hope you'll all bring your families early. (Details are on page 12. Ed.) And apropos, Alumni Hall will be "open house" from 11 to 8 on all game days.

About the new gym, which will make 1958 as exciting a sports year for B.C. as the stadium makes this year: it's going to be a beauty. The heart of the place will be the basketball court, of course, and for once Dino Martin will have a "show place" to practice on and play home games. There'll be a seating capacity of over 3,000—we hope to see the day when this will be too small.

The gym becomes the center of intramural activity, too. There'll be squash courts, boxing, wrestling, and exercise rooms, golf practice area, billiards and table tennis tables, a rifle range. The old, inadequate gym, by the way, will be torn down—the same for the temporary barracks near the Business School.

There's more to come. The large area on the Cleveland Circle side of the reservoir (now parking space) will soon become baseball field and track. The filled-in part of the reservoir between Stadium and Law School will serve as practice fields for varsity and Freshman football. Old Alumni Field will be used for intramural games, and probably one day will be built on.

The view of B.C. as it will soon look is on the next pages. Have a peek. Different, isn't it?

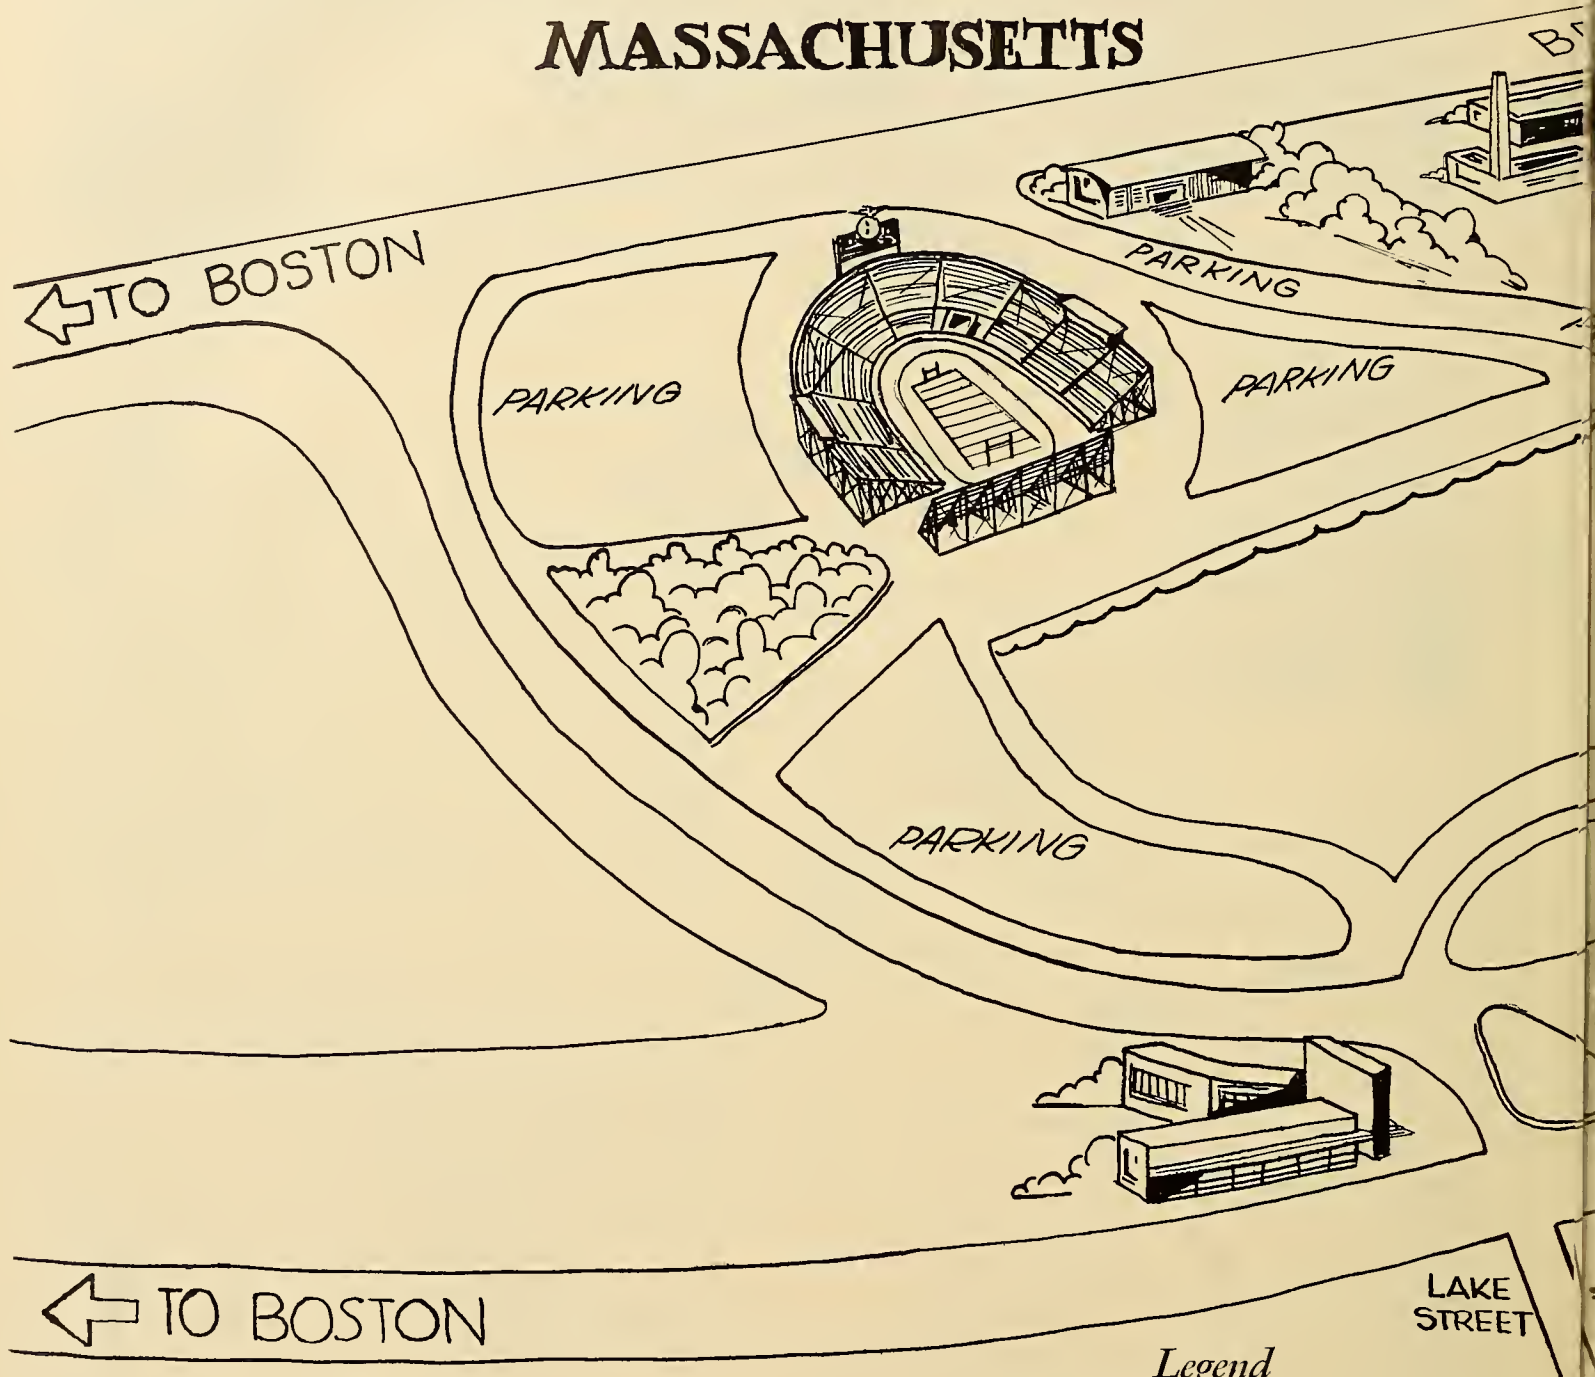

To end on a football note—after all one of the big assignments in my new post is to dig up topnotch opponents for Mike's myrmidons to tackle—maybe you'd like to be let in on the schedules for the next few years. I won't add any comments but there are some humdingers coming up.

The BIG

1. COMMENCEMENT

Happy occasion: Wallace Carroll and Augustus Long, honorary degree recipients, match genius with Fr. Rector and His Excellency Archbishop Cushing.

End of a long pull, doctoral candidates await their big moment. The three gentlemen all won Ph. D.'s in Economics: Raymond Aherne, Fr. Robert McEwen, '37, Charles Sullivan '50. The young woman at the left, Patricia Goler won a Ph. D. in History, the St. Joseph's nun, Sister Mary Josephine Concannon, a doctorate in Education.

1240 new alumni entered the rolls on June 11 at Boston Garden. Pushed indoors by the stadium construction (a One-day dream: a commencement-size auditorium on the Heights) this 81st renewal of the degree conferring ceremony was presided over by His Excellency Archbishop Cushing, '17.

6 honorary alumni were created too:

Wallace E. Carroll, '28 president and treasurer of the American Gage and Machine Company (See Alumni News Summer, 1956)

Arthur J. Kelly, vice-president and treasurer of R. H. White's, member of the Business School.

Augustus G. Long, president and chairman of the board of Texas Co.

Adrian O'Keefe, president of First National Stores, also an advisor to the Business School.

Msgr. Patrick W. Skehan, professor of Semitic Languages at Catholic University.

Nils T. Wessel, president of Tufts.

Honorary Alumnus Long of Texas Co. made the commencement address—a defense of today's businessmen. He enthusiastically insisted that the day of the robber baron is gone. Instead, "the professional manager of today, almost without exception is a conscientious, dedicated person; he is a man of integrity and absolute loyalty to the principles which shape and govern our democratic society . . . It is no longer possible to bribe, brag, or bulldoze your way into wealth and power."

3 DAYS

Fr. Edmund E. Buckley, '32. perhaps bemused by the quite uncanonical headgear, broods.

2. CLASS OF '32 : 25th

There are certain milestones in a man's life, e.g. graduation, discharge from the army, marriage, the first baby, promotion to V.P., the 25th anniversary.

The last got the full treatment this year from the Class of '32—its members, conscious of its milestones, celebrated all year, enjoyed a program that could be a model for all 25th's.

The program:

Dinner Dance, St. Sebastian's Oct. 12
Athletic Reunion and Dinner, Alumni Hall, Nov. 30

Cocktail Party, WORL Bldg., post H. C. game

Class Reunion Banquet, Alumni Hall, Dec. 28.

Family Communion Breakfast, Lyons Hall, May 12

"Wives" Social Night, Alumni Hall, June 6

Alumni Day, The Heights, June 7

The climax of Alumni Day, and the year: '32's gift to the Rector of $13,000.

Kudos for quite a year goes to the following stalwarts: Edward M. Gallagher, Jr., President, Edward P. Reardon, General Chairman, John P. Connor, Secretary, Very Rev. James T. Cotter, General Treasurer, Edward F. Hurley, R. Gerald Kelley, Henry J. Downes, James J. Heggie, Jr., Dr. Frank M. O'Connor, John G. Patten, John J. Collins, Francis H. Curtin, Felix F. Albano, William J. Egan, M.D., Daniel J. Cotter, John T. Rowlinson and William L. Cannon.

3. ALUMNI DAY

McKenney award winner, Dan Driscoll, '28, chairman of the fund drive, 1956-57.

The last affair on Alumni Day, June 7—the annual banquet—was the high-spot of quite a day. The largest crowd ever—2,000 alumni—had come back to pray with Msgr. Riley at Mass on Alumni Hall's lawn, cheer fund-raiser Dan Driscoll, '28 as McKenney medal winner, chuckle at the Anniversary Classes' headgear, shrug at the customary loss to H.C.'s baseball team, 2-1.

The largest number ever to stay over for the banquet—600—sat in on a momentous occasion. New President Charles O'Brien, '33, as is his custom, quoted Goldsmith. Fr. Rector, catching the spirit, quoted Longfellow. But retiring President John Griffin made the most poetic presentation of all when he said, "Here is a check for $276,245".

And to add a filip to such a scrumptious amount, John Donnelly, '34, of the outdoor advertising firm, presented to the Stadium a scoreboard, certainly the lushest, if not the biggest, in the country.

Spiritual beginning: Msgr. Riley, '36, distributes communion at mass on the lawn.

John Donnelly presents a picture of his new scoreboard to Alumni Day chairman, Dick Fitzpatrick, '31, while Joe McKenney, '27, applauds.

Material close: Fr. Rector says thank you for the check, photostated hugely behind him.

The Business School adds the 14th discipline available to B. C. students: graduate course culminating in

New Degree: M B A

During the past two years we have been deluged with inquiries about a graduate degree program in business and in many instances have been importuned to offer special business courses on the graduate level.

Thus, in September, 1957, a Boston College Graduate School of Business Administration will offer advanced professional training leading to the degree of Master of Business Administration. The decision to introduce business education at the graduate level was a response to increasingly heavy demands for broadly educated and professionally trained men and women.

Certainly external conditions exert a tremendous pressure on both firms and individuals for extended training. Automation, operations research, consumer behavior research and basic electronic data processing have one and all contrived to mold an environment in which there is a higher ratio of managers to managed, more staff services supplied by trained specialists, and easier access to the ranks of managers by the energetic and competent.

On industry's side this challenge has been partly met by their willingness to underwrite the cost of graduate education. One has only to note the newspaper announcements of programs and even 'colleges' that have been instituted by business firms to be aware of the efforts that have been made by the business community to fill this demand.

From the individual's standpoint as well there is every evidence to indicate a willingness to participate in programs such as graduate business education. Warner and Abegglen in their recent work, "Occupational Mobility" have inserted the table below at right.

Summarily the table shows that most men below the college level take special business school courses, but that college men rely on commercial training provided by institutions of higher learning.

Later in the study two interesting items of information appropriate in this context are brought out: 1) that the average age of business leaders decreases as the amount of formal education increases, and 2) that the rate of vertical mobility in a business career is materially increased in those cases where education is relatively limited. For example, while men with little or no formal education required on the average 31 years to achieve their positions, the time period for college graduates was little over 20 years.

Thus a graduate program in business administration has a twofold purpose for Boston College. Firstly, it affords Boston College an opportunity to integrate business courses at the graduate level in a framework of Catholic principles, and secondly, to meet the needs of firms, individuals and society in this general area.

In line with the first and more important of these purposes, it is significant to note the vast number of courses, variously titled, in business ethics offered by leading institutions. More and more business executives are beleaguered and harassed by problems involving responsibilities which touch on the whole community. This becomes even more acute when one realizes that business expansion plans spread beyond the historical business cycle span of eight to ten years.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

Applicants for admission may expect the following requirements: 1) a bachelor's degree or its equivalent from a recognized institution; 2) superior scholastic achievement on the undergraduate level; 3) evidence of such personal characteristics as may be considered prerequisites for the development of executive competence and leadership in business.

In addition to the foregoing, Boston College, together with other leading graduate business schools throughout the country, has agreed to use the Admission Test for Graduate Study in Business, which is administered by the Educational Testing Service. All applicants for admission to the Master's Program in Business Administration will be required to take this test. In determining whether the applicant will be accepted as a degree candidate, the school will use the test score as a supplement to his academic record, recommendations, and such other pertinent data as may be available. Admission will be on a competitive basis.

Applicants should write immediately for an application form for this test and a bulletin giving information about its administration to: Educational Testing Service, Admission Test for Graduate Study in Business, 20 Nassau Street, Princeton, New Jersey. There will be an examination fee of $10 for the test, which will be given in various locations in the immediate Boston area during the months of November, February, April and July. No special preparation for the test is required since it is designed to measure aptitude for graduate study in business and is not a measure of knowledge in specific subjects.

INTERVIEWS AND FEES

The Office of the Graduate School of Business Administration in Fulton Hall, Room 305, is prepared at all times to interview prospective applicants for admission. The office is open daily from 9 A.M. to 5 P.M., Monday through Friday. It is also open from 5:30 to 9 P.M. on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday evenings.

The Big Picture with Fr. Shea

Q. Father, you probably know more about the boys at Boston College than anybody except their parents. Do you detect anything about athletes which distinguishes them from the other students at B.C.?

A. On the field of play, of course, there is something which distinguishes the athlete from another student at B.C. However, in the classroom and on the campus, the athlete is just like any other student. That is the way we want it, and actually it is the way athletes prefer. To the teacher, to the prefect, and to the disciplinarian, the athlete is just another student in his class, or on his corridor, or in his school. The athlete, like his fellow classmate, is required to meet all the scholastic standards of the College and to observe every regulation on the campus. The B.C. fan who could readily spot the big star on Saturday afternoon would have great difficulty in picking him out on the campus during the week. And, as I said before, the athlete prefers it this way. In fact several Seniors in the past have expressed to me their gratitude to B.C. because B.C. treated them, not as athletes, but as students.

Q. At some schools the athletes are housed separately from the student body. How do you arrange that at B.C.?

A. As I said in my previous answer, Boston College considers and treats the athlete as a student. For that reason, if you were to walk along a dormitory corridor, you would find an athlete living with a non-athletic roommate. A few doors down, you perhaps would see two athletes living and studying together. Continue on and you spot one here, one there. They are scattered throughout the dormitories, some living with each other, but many of them living with non-athletic classmates.

Q. Do you have a special diet and training for the athletes?

A. No, for we have discovered that the regular student diet is sufficient with these two exceptions: first, we substitute another dessert in place of any pastry during the training season; and secondly, on the morning or afternoon of a big game we feed them a good steak dinner. Remember that they are growing boys, and I'll assure you that they have good appetites!

Q. Do the athletes have time to take part in any other extra-curricular activities?

A. During their playing season it is difficult for the athletes to be active members in any club or academy. Yet either before or after that season you will find many of them active members in the various organizations on the campus. The Sodality, the Glee Club, the Debating Clubs, the Business Fraternities—to mention only a few of these organizations—can count athletics among their numbers.

Q. Do you have any athletes who are pursuing any comparatively difficult courses of study?

A. Yes. Just to name a few offhand there are Jerry Havdra and George Giersch majoring in Chemistry; Billie Donlan in English—incidentally he was good enough to win a fellowship; there are the Bennett Brothers, both majors in Accounting; Ed McGraw in Math. Bernie Teliszewski, a Dean's List student in Economics, and Bill Donlan were selected members of Alpha Sigma Nu, the Jesuit Honor Society. By the way, if you ask Mike Holovak this question, he'll tell you that all his players are studying tough courses.

Q. Could you describe the feelings of the students and athletes concerning the new Stadium and Gymnasium?

A. Perhaps you would have the answer to this question if you just stood and watched them as they arrive on registration day. The expression on their faces will give you the answer you want. There is no doubt that they will be the happiest bunch of college youngsters in the Country, this Fall, when they see the plans materialize.

Fr. Joseph Shea, Moderator of Athletics and Dean of Men at the College of Arts and Science.

Football with Mike

Q. What are the prospects for Boston College's 1957 football team?

A. We start off an interesting and competitive schedule with a couple of exceptionally good football teams—Navy and Florida State—they'll be rugged games.

Q. Does this year's team shape up better than the 1956 team?

A. Yes, it definitely should be a better team. Not necessarily does it mean we'll better our 5-4 record of a year ago, but we will have available some outstanding players, who will however, be somewhat limited in experience.

Q. What are your views on playing teams of the calibre of Navy, Pittsburgh, Army, Syracuse, Clemson, etc.?

A. Excellent. There is that natural incentive for going after the 'big guy' and really test yourself. I'm certain the boys prefer the bigger name teams and I'm sure the fans would rather watch the so-called major college football teams in action.

Mike Holovak in his 13th year at B.C., 4 as player, 2 as Freshman Coach, and 7th as Head Coach.

Q. Would you favor the formation of a league for the many Eastern Independents?

A. Definitely. There seems to be a definite trend toward league competition. Every section of the country seems to have banded together in leagues. The East seems alone with so many major teams independent in operation. League competition would be a great stimulant for the Eastern colleges.

Q. Will the new Alumni Stadium benefit you and the team?

A. There's that old expression—'there's no place like home'—that's how it affects me and I'm sure the players will have the same feeling being in their own home.

Q. Can you cite any individuals on this year's team as exceptional players?

A. Don Allard and Alan Miller would be hard to replace. Allard is a daring and imaginative quarterback. Miller is strong, fast and talented. This is a great combination to have in a backfield. John Flanagan, you'll find, will eventually become a truly outstanding end.

Q. Would you give an analysis of the teams B.C. meets this Fall?

A. Navy, of course, needs little mentioning. Suffice it to say they are very strong. Florida State defeated Villanova soundly last year. We saw them when scouting Villanova. They operate from the I formation (the four backs are in a straight line behind the center and perpendicular to the line of scrimmage) and are very colorful, deceptive, and effective with this offense. One of their favorite plays is to have each of the 3 backs behind the QB hit each hole on one side of the line with the QB faking to each and then keeping the ball as he rolls out around the end. As he scoots out he may run or pass—they are almost on a par with Navy. Quantico, we expect, will have its usual number of ex-college greats and All-Americans—add to that, the Marine Spirit. They will be strong. While scouting Holy Cross last year we got a look at Dayton—they licked Holy Cross 14 to 13 and were the biggest team that we saw last year—we will have to be aggressive to move them. We played our best game against Villanova last year—we had to in order to win. Their roster shows that they have most of the regulars returning with outstanding Freshmen adding strength to the team. Detroit gave us considerable trouble last year and we expect them to be as strong plus the fact that we will be playing them in Detroit which is always an advantage for the home team.

Johnny Druze took his bumps last year but it was obvious that he was building the nucleus of a sound team for the future. We saw Marquette three times last year and he brought along some rugged and scrappy Sophomores that gained some wonderful experience. Reports indicate that his Freshman team was powerful. Johnny is getting ready to hand out a few lumps for Marquette. Boston University with its new Head Coach, a strong Freshman team, a new spirit, and a fervent desire to lick B.C. will make our trip down the Avenue a full afternoon.

Of Holy Cross it is difficult to state anything that isn't already known. They have plenty of returning regulars and our Freshmen can testify as to the strength of their Freshmen. H.C. also has the added incentive of playing the game at Fitton Field.

Dino Martin looks forward to playing on his home court.

Basketball with Dino

Q. What do you expect of the B. C. basketball team this winter?

A. We will have most of our regulars returning this year. However, we will miss the strength given us by Dick Dunn and the scoring of Paul McAdams. We might expect quite a bit more from George Giersch who was an outstanding sophomore last year.

Q. Do you expect much help from last year's freshman five?

A. Once those boys step into varsity competition they could come up with many surprises. I believe we can get some backcourt help from one or two of last year's freshmen.

Q. What do you expect of the opposition in the 1957-58 season?

A. Most everyone locally should be much improved. We will expect our boys to work hard and improve so that the team can meet the challenge of this improvement.

Q. How will the proposed new gymnasium help you?

A. No matter what people think, playing on your home court gives an advantage. This seems to be particularly true in basketball. The new gymnasium will also be an attraction to prospective student-athletes. Strangely enough, facilities are a major concern to these high school boys. The added court space will also help immeasurably during practices.

Q. Will the new gymnasium aid in the promotion of college basketball?

A. I believe it definitely should help locally. Most of the local teams are able to play in their own gyms. What with the Celtics and the many other activities at the Garden, college basketball dates are scarce. A decent team, with its own court to play on, can be a great campus attraction.

Snooks, as he nears his 30th year as coach, looks for a rink.

Hockey with Snooks

Q. What are the prospects for this year's hockey team?

A. Graduation did a rough job on the squad. We lost ten good boys — their places will be hard to fill. The returning lettermen will form the nucleus aided by several fine prospects from last year's freshman squad.

Q. How does this year's team compare with the team of last year?

A. This will be a rebuilding year. We can't tell much until we see how the new men adapt to varsity competition. However, it is asking too much to think that in one short year they can reach the heights attained by the Eagle teams of the past few years.

Q. How does the schedule suit you?

A. Fine. As long as we continue to play the best I am happy—the kids will improve quicker and the fans will see the country's top teams in action. B.C. belongs playing the best.

Q. What do you think of the proposed hockey rink?

A. Great. It would be like a dream come true. Playing on our own rink would give our young team a tremendous lift—and motivate the Alumni and students to increased support.

Q. How does the Alumni feel about it? From your personal contacts?

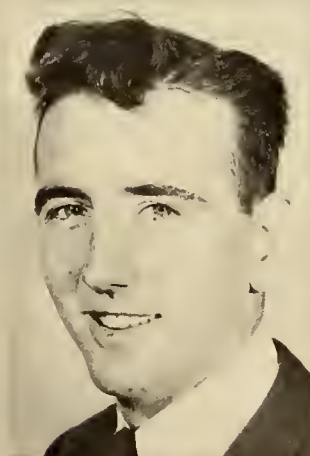

A. Boston College and hockey have been the best in college circles—I think they want the rink as much as the players and student body. They realize the definite advantages, having once labored in the wee, small hours of the morning at the "old Arena" or any place they could get ice. I think that anyone who has ever played hockey for Boston College would be grateful if we could make a hockey rink part of B.C.'s tremendous building program.

New Faces in the Sports Picture

Fr. Shea and Eddie Miller

Fr. Shea, Moderator of Athletics, and Eddie Miller, Assistant to the Director of Athletics, working out a plan to seat everybody on the 50 yd. line.

Jimmy Kane

JIMMY KANE—New to Mike Holovak's coaching staff is former quarterback, Jimmy Kane '55. A native of Weymouth where he gained fame as a high school quarterback, Kane came to the Heights in 1951 and climaxed that season with his clutch pass to Tommy Joe Sullivan in the fading moments of the Holy Cross game.

An Army Reserve officer, Jimmy will assist Coach Holovak with the varsity backfield.

Lou Florio

LOU FLORIO—The most recent addition to the football coaching staff is Lou Florio, '54, who has been signed to coach the Eagle freshmen and assist with the varsity linemen. An ex-Marine, Florio was set to play professional football with the Bears until a severe knee injury stopped his playing days. Lou played tackle while at B.C. He expects to complete the requirements for his Master's Degree in the coming year.

Washington, D. C.

Anthony P. Perry, '26, immediate past president of the Club sends the following account of the final meeting of the year under his direction: "The members of the Boston College Club of Washington, D. C. were guests of Capt. Thomas C. Herlihy, USN, '26, on Thursday, June 20 at the Naval Officers Club, U. S. Naval Gun Factory. The facilities were ideal and the Club is indebted to Captain Herlihy for a very successful and entertaining evening. A minimum amount of year-end club business was transacted in order to proceed with the showing of the moving picture 'The Towers on the Heights'. All present enjoyed the picture and were generous in their praise of the manner of presentation and the technical excellence, and there was a feeling that the presentation had caught the real spirit of the B. C. campus. A special announcement during the meeting informed that Club that its Chaplain, Rev. Joseph L. Teletchea, '39 had been appointed pastor of the newly created parish of the Washington diocese of St. Philip, The Apostle. The final business of the meeting was the election of officers for the coming year, with the following results: Anthony P. Flynn, '36, president; John B. Clinton, '52, vice-president; Thomas P. Murphy, '41, secretary-treasurer; Rev. Joseph L. Teletchea, '39, chaplain.

On Alumni Day, June 7, Judge Daniel J. Gillen presented the Alumni with the original scroll of UP ON THE HILLTOP, written on the 50th Anniversary of B. C. by his late brother Henry Gillen, '19. The margin round the shield is bannered with famous B. C. names: Mellen, Bapst, Lyons et al.; atop the shield is a drawing of the towers on the Heights.

UP ON THE HILLTOP

Henry Gillen '19

Up on the hilltop are gray towers climbing,
Beauty of twilight and silver bells chiming
Up on the hilltop are crosses that rise
Like fingertips touching the clouds in the skies;
Spring in the valley and June on the height.
Moon like a lantern and stars gleaming bright,
And valiant sons gathered together tonight.
Up on the hilltop.

Up on the hilltop are linden trees bending.
Bright banners waving, maroon and gold blending.
Up on the hilltop are monuments new
To wisdom and honor and dreams that come true,
Tall turrets reared by the makers of men
Who labored through yesterdays down in the glen
To walk in the way of Loyola again,
Up on the hilltop.

Up on the hilltop are youth and the aging
Back from the battles for principles waging.
Up on the hilltop are men who are gray
And youth newly-armored this glorious day,
Joined by the years that are fifty in all,
Joined by a bond in the oak-timbered hall,
Like ivy that clings to the great Gothic wall,
Up on the hilltop.

ALUMNI ROUND-UP

Gift From Africa

John Griffin got this delightful response from one of his indefatigable fund letters. Dated Catholic Mission, P.O. Verulam, Natal, Africa, it went: Dear John, Enjoyed being asked by your committee for a donation to the B. C. Stadium Fund. Only spent a year at the Heights before going into the Oblates, still the thrill of having been one of the boys for that short time has never left me. And the continued correspondence with the "Old Boys" is a pleasure. It has dropped a lot since returning to Africa, but here is an occasion where I can offer help to you. It might not be in a financial way, for I'm on the Missions where most of our bread and butter is begged from others, but I will say a Holy Mass for the success of the drive.

With every best wish for a success in your efforts and a continued remembrance of you all in my prayers and Masses.

God love and bless you,

Rev. Thomas J. Hannon, '41

Spectrography Sessions

The 1957 sessions in Modern Industrial Spectrography were held at Boston College from July 15th through 26th under the direction of Reverend James J. Devlin, S.J., Director.

The instrumentation of the college was implemented by generous loans of equipment from Baird-Atomic Inc., of Cambridge and from Jarrell-Ash Company of Newtonville, Massachusetts. The scientific equipment used by the more than 40 students from 13 states and Canada approximated $100,000 in value. The Baird-Atomic Company also provided Mr. L. O. Eikrem and Mr. Austin O'Malley (B. C. 1950) to assist in the instruction of students. Jarrell-Ash personnel included Dr. R. H. Brehm, Dr. Raymond Tabeling and B. M. Fagan.

Boston College faculty members assisting Father Devlin included Professors Shork and Power of the Physics Department and Dr. George Vogel of the Chemistry Department.

Legacy of a Brave Man

On May 14th George Lucy, '56, of Arlington died at the Veterans' Hospital, survived by his wife, Christine Buckley Lucey, a graduate of the In-town College, and three boys, ages five, three and one.

Just before he died, George wrote the following—the legacy of a brave man:

True faith in God has become more deeply instilled in my immortal soul during the past two years.

I first noticed the symptoms of my present malady, cancer, on Good Friday, 1955. Surgery was performed. I convalesced rapidly. Now God held my destiny in His hands. I pray through the intercession of Saint Peregrine, the Cancer Saint, that the eventual cure is found. I consider myself much more fortunate than the normal person: the Angel of Death has spared me once; God has given me a warning.

My humble hope is that I become more and more a perfect servant of God. The Jesuit training in Theology and Philosophy has been a fountain from which I have been able to draw nourishment in times of despair.

Matrimony has given me a helpmate to bear with courage and faith my mild yoke. Our third son was born almost simultaneously with the light of my speedy recovery. We therefore named him Christopher—Christ Bear-er.

Frequent reception of the Holy Eucharist has also aided me especially during my return periods of hospitalization. Last year the prayers and Masses for my health and welfare were answered. The Jesuit Communities in Massachusetts, the parish congregation and the Sodality of the Immaculate Conception at Boston College prayed for me. The future depends upon how devoutly I pray and how deep my faith is in the Divine Physician.

I thank God for this Cross; my hope and prayers are that I am worthy to bear it.

Philosophy Institute

An Institute in Philosophy was held this summer for four weeks on the Boston College campus. Attending: 25 philosophy-teaching Jesuits from the United States and Canada in addition to the members of the Department of Philosophy at Boston College.

The first lecturer was the Rev. George P. Klubertanz, S.J., Ph.D. of St. Louis University Graduate School. Fr. Klubertanz is the author of Introductory Metaphysics, The Philosophy of Human Nature, and The Cogitative Sense, was president, last year, of the American Catholic Philosophical Association and of The Metaphysical Society of America, is now editor of the Modern Schoolman. In his lectures, Fr. Klubertanz discussed contemporary problems from science as they touch the field of philosophy. Several of his lectures dealt with Freudian Psychoanalysis in the light of Thomistic psychology.

The second lecturer during the last two weeks of the course was the Rev. Bernard J. M. Lonergan, S.J., Ph.D. of the Gregorian University in Rome. Fr. Lonergan has recently published a new book on the theory of knowledge entitled Insight. During the first week he discussed Mathematical Logic indicating its Significance and Philosophical limitations. In the second week, the lecturer spoke on Existentialism.

The primary purpose of the Institute was to acquaint teachers and those interested in philosophy with current problems that have arisen in the past two decades. Intellectual horizons were thus opened up for professors who had been away from formal academic training for a number of years.

Memo to B. C. Lawyers

FROM THE DESK OF ROBERT F. DRINAN, S.J., DEAN BOSTON COLLEGE LAW SCHOOL — On June 6, 1957 the Boston College Law School held a luncheon for the first class graduated from the Law School in 1932, now the first Silver Anniversary class in the history of the school. One of the projects discussed at this luncheon was a Boston College Lawyers' Day—an event designed to bring together not only the 1700 alumni of Alma Mater's law school but also several thousand sons of Boston College who are attorneys though not graduates of the Boston College Law School.

A committee composed of Alma Mater's sons-in-law, (Chairman: Henry M. Leen, '32), has decided to hold this unique Lawyers' Day on Saturday, October 19, 1957. A requiem Mass at the Church of Saint Ignatius for all deceased Boston College attorneys will be followed by symposia for lawyers at the Saint Thomas More Hall of the Boston College Law School. Luncheon will be served prior to the Boston College-Villanova game at the new campus stadium. Events after the game are also being considered.

ABOUT STUDENTS. The officials of the Boston College Law School are currently engaged in an intensive screening-process designed to eliminate those applicants who in all probability will not do well on their law school tests or on the Bar examination of their state. This screening-process—an agonizing ordeal for all law school administrations—seeks to select applicants on the basis of a delicate balancing of their college records, their score on the Law School Admission Test (an

On June 15, Rev. Wm. McInnes, S.J., '46, became the first B. School graduate to be ordained a Jesuit. Along with his B.B.A., he holds a D.B.A. from N.Y.U.

John F. Mungovan, '29, Director of the Mass. Division of the Blind, recipient of the 1957 Newel Perry Award of the National Federation of the Blind for "an outstanding contribution to the welfare of the blind."

On Commencement Day, Alumni President John J. Griffin, '35 presented the Memorial Medal of the Boston College Alumni Association to Cadet Colonel Donald L. Connors, '57 CBA for outstanding military achievement during the Reserve Officers Training Corps curriculum. Fr. Fleming, Assistant to the Rector, looks on.

The Lactare Scholarship Fund, now over $3,000, continues to help worthy young scholars get their starts. This year's five recipients bring the total of Lactare Scholars to twenty. The following students have been awarded Alumni scholarshipss Daniel F. Callahan, Peabody; Eugene F. Flanagan, Jr., Medford; Robert F. Geary, Allston; Joseph R. Scalley, Jamaica Plain; and John R. Tenney, Wellesley Hills.

objective test with a good predictive value) and a careful letter of appraisal from a professor or pre-legal director. Tables and charts indicative of probable success in the Boston College Law School are being worked out so that, if at all possible, failures can be virtually eliminated.

The administration of the University has by its generous grant of twelve full tuition scholarships made it possible for the Law School to attract students of superior quality who will spark their classes on to higher achievement. But more scholarship and loan funds are desperately needed. In 1956-1957 almost 40% of the students at the Law School were beneficiaries under the G. I. Bill; the termination of these benefits on January 1, 1955 has already caused a sharp rise in the number of urgent requests for financial assistance. Alumni and friends of the Law School can help immensely by even a small amount of money for a revolving loan fund.

Students from over 100 colleges continue to come to the Law School. The recipients of scholarships this year include applicants from Brown, Dartmouth, LeMoyne (Syracuse), DePaul (Chicago) University of Massachusetts, Holy Cross and Boston College. But better students from more colleges are needed. An institute to be conducted on November 16, 1957 at the Boston College Law School for the college pre-legal directors of the Northeast will be instrumental in introducing the school to those who direct upper-classmen interested in a legal career.

ABOUT FACULTY — The law school welcomes this Fall four new professors from the campuses of Harvard, Tulane, Boston University and Catholic University. From across the Charles will come the famous Professor Warren A. Seavey, author and expert on Torts, Agency and Restitution. Tulane will send Professor Richard G. Huber (LL.B. University of Iowa; LL.M. Harvard), who will be the new editor of the Annual Survey of Massachusetts Law, published by the faculty and students of the Boston College Law School. Professor Kenneth B. Hughes, (LL.B. University of California; LL.M. Harvard) will join the faculty, having resigned from Boston University Law School, and will teach Evidence and Trial Practice, the latter a course long needed in the diet of our law students. J. Edward Collins, (LL.M. Cornell), former professor and acting dean of the Catholic University Law School, returns to Alma Mater to resume his teaching career interrupted by years in which he became a Commander (U.S.N.R.) and the President of the Bar in Hawaii.

NEWS FROM THE CLASSES

The sincere sympathy of fellow Alumni is extended to JOHN B. DOYLE on the death of his wife, a native of Everett, Mass. Her distinguished husband, winner of the William C. McKenney Alumni Award and founder of the Boston College Club of New York writes that his wife "... lived an exemplary Christian life. She was proud that two of her sons were graduates of Boston College and gloried in its success."

Three of us — one-sixth of our total graduation enrollment were present for the joyful occasion of our 50th Golden Anniversary of graduation on Alumni Day—HENRY McGUINNESS, DR. JOHN POWERS and your reporter. The gracious hospitality of Father Rector and warm reception by the Alumni made a very happy home-coming for us. It was a glorious day.

I am sorry to report the death of our late classmate, FR. JOE BURKE. Father Joe had been ill for the past four years. Our condolences to his sisters, Helen and Julia and his brother, Vince. The class was represented at the funeral by MSGR. FINN, JIM COTTER, FRED DUNPHY, and BILL MURPHY. I am also sorry to announce that FR. JOHN VIGNERON is a patient at the Holy Ghost Hospital.

ED McDONOUGH after many years as Principal of Boston Trade School has retired from the Boston School system. A testimonial dinner was tended Ed by his associates. Best wishes, Ed.

GEORGE LEONARD, accompanied by Mrs. Leonard, was on for Alumni Day. Also present were LARRY KIELY and as usual, MIAH FALVEY.

To hold first place percentage-wise that we have held the last four years, we only need the donations of a few members; if it has slipped your mind, mail a check for the Stadium Fund so we may retain the top spot again.

As Alumni Hall will be taken over by the Alumni Association the night before, the Holy Cross game, we will be unable to have our annual dinner that night. However, FRED MURPHY will keep you informed of the date later. In the meantime, don't forget your check for the Stadium Fund.

'12 STEPHEN H. MAHONEY 5 Bellevue Avenue, Cambridge

Five stalwarts of the last class to graduate from the "old college" on James Street appeared at the Alumni Day observance. All were on the job from the beginning of the Mass until the close of the evening festivities.

PRESIDENT DEN DOOLEY, the distinguished State Librarian, led the contingent whose next big observance will be the fiftieth anniversary in 1962. (Wow!) JOE McHUGH, who never misses a reunion, came over from New York and left The Texas Co. to its own destiny for the day. DOCTOR ED BUTLER saw to it that no appointments were scheduled and came along with his fellow Cantabrigian STEVE MAHONEY. To complete the group and act as chaplain, MONSIGNOR TOM GARRITY laid aside his parochial and Legion of Mary duties to be with his former classmates.

We missed PAT DEE who was prevented from coming because of the illness of his good wife. The prayers of the fellows are with you, Pat.

RAY LYONS sent along a message of regret at not being able to join the party. Ray is currently taking care of his health at the home of his daughter down at Atlanta.

The quorum of five which attended the forty-fifth reunion appeals to the other survivors in our thinning ranks to join in our class and alumni observances.

'13 RAYMOND T. HENDERSON 597 Walnut St., Newtonville

We appreciate the increasing interest that the members of our class are giving to attendance at our get-together meetings, and your generous donations to the Alumni Fund.

On Alurani Day, there were nine classmates there and they spent a pleasant day together.

On June 17th we were the guests of our generous MONSIGNOR "DOC" PHELAN at his summer home in Allerton Hill. It was a glorious day with fun and frolic and abundant with hospitality. As guests of our host, there were MONSIGNOR FRANK BURKE, JOHN CURLEY, JOHN CASEY, ED BOUCHER, TOM HANRON, JOE GILDEA, PETE McMAHON, JIM KELLEY, JOE MALONEY "DOC" FITZGER-

ALD, FRANK MURPHY and "yours truly."

We wish that if any of our members have had a change in address or telephone, write me in care of the Alumni Association, so that we can keep in contact with you, for future events.

'14 JOHN S. KEOHANE 1147 Tremont Street, Boston

BISHOP ERIC MacKENZIE has been elected a Fellow of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences.

FRED DOYLE'S son, Representative Charles of West Roxbury, made a valiant and determined stand against the Bill to increase the number of judges of the Superior Court. He is making his presence known in the Legislature although one of its youngest members.

Dan Hurl Jr., son of our late lamented classmate DAN HURLD, is County Agent of the National Association of County Agricultural Agents and is with the Extension School at Danvers. His brother, Father John Leander, S.J., is a Chaplain in the Army at Dornstadt, Germany.

Married: April 27, FATHER PAT DAWSON'S niece Helen Patricia King, '56 and A. William Kennedy, '56. Her brothers Paul, '51 LLB '56 and Edward, '48 were best man and usher respectively.

Died: April 10, JOHN ROY TAYLOR, a distinguished member of the Class, whose indefatigable efforts as Editor-in-Chief of the Sub Turri II, contributed immensely to its success. As Associate Editor of the Stylus, his excellence as a litterateur helped to maintain the lofty style of this publication. His sense of quiet humor made him an ideal companion of those of us who were close to him. BISHOP ERIC gave the final absolution assisted by MONSIGNOR BOB BARRY, FATHER JACK JOYCE and FATHER ED McLAUGHLIN. Also in attendance were JACK KAPPLES, BILL O'SULLIVAN and JOHN KEOHANE. Our condolences go to his three sisters. May his good soul rest in peace!

JOHN SHAUGHNESSY, the son of our late revered classmate AL SHAUGHNESSY, has been accepted for entrance into B.C. High in September, thus following in the footsteps of his father who entered there with us in 1906. Al, Jr. after his service with the Army in Europe joined the Glenn-Martin Airplane Company in Delaware.

JOHN KEOHANE'S son Lieut. Francis X., U.S.A. has returned from eighteen months' service in Germany and will return to College in the Fall.

'16 JAMES L. O'BRIEN 41 Pond Circle, Jamaica Plain

The National Federation of Catholic Physicians Guild recently made a joint award of the first Thomas Linacre Award to DR. ROY HEFFERNAN, past president of our class, and to DR. WILLIAM A. LYNCH, '38.

Former classmate ARTHUR T. GORMLEY, vice-president and business manager of the Des Moines, Iowa, Register and Tribune, was given the Des Moines Notre Dame Club's first "man of the year" award. Twenty-seven members of the class were present at our Memorial Mass at St. Columbkille's Convent on Alumni Day. MONSIGNOR DALY, pastor of St. Columbkille's arranged for breakfast and a class meeting after the Mass. Many thanks to Monsignor Daly.

DR. FRED GILLIS was re-elected Assistant Supt. of the Boston Public Schools. He was originally nominated by JOE HURLEY, Class of 1916. Twenty-two years later, Joe's son, George, '46, expressed pleasure in voting for Fred's re-election.

FATHER GEORGE CASEY celebrated his 37th anniversary as a priest and dedicated a new St. Brigid's Church in Lexington.

HON. JAMES B. LINEHAN, 6 Joyce St., Great Barrington, R. I., was elected class president for 1957-1958.

MONSIGNOR AUGUSTINE C. DALTON has been elected president of the National Catholic Hospital Association.

(Editor's note) Congratulations to JIM O'BRIEN on the arrival of Helen, the third child of his daughter and John Best, '48. John has been awarded the National Science Foundation Fellowship at Tufts College Summer School. He was also awarded a Dupont Fellowship in Science at the Harvard Summer School.

Another daughter and son-in-law, the Paul Twitchells, '53, are the proud parents of twin daughters, Katherine Theresa and Nancy Ellen born on April 3. Paul has been discharged from the Air Corps and is now a Research Physicist with Melpar at Boston.

'17 THOMAS D. CRAVEN 107 Barrett Street, Needham

The FORTIETH ANNIVERSARY was blessed with fine weather—just like the day in 1917. The war clouds that hung over the class forty years ago were missing. At that time several of the class were already enlisted in the military service. Some have not been seen since then. Some still bear the marks of the war. All remember the uncertainty with which we faced the future. Following the Mass on the grounds of Alumni Hall on June 7th, this year, the class met for luncheon in Lyons Hall. The following sat down in the special room for the meal: MSGR. WILLIAM REILLY, FR. TONY MESLIS, S.J., FR. FRANK CAFFREY, M.M., MAURICE MURPHY, BILL REID, JACK McCARTY, MATT MEALY, WALTER DURNAN, JACK DOYLE, TOM CRAVEN, JOHN FLYNN, MARTY HIGGINS, JOE DEE, DR. CY LYDON and DR. CHARLEY TOOMEY. We played host to the lone member of 1907 at the luncheon, James W. Carr of Roslindale, a retired employee of the U.S. Customs Service.

At the game with H.C. we were joined by FR. MAURICE DULLEA, S.J., FR. JIM KERRIGAN, O.M.I., BO MAHONEY and JOHN MAHONEY. With few exceptions all the foregoing attended the banquet in the evening.

FR. JIM KERRIGAN, O.M.I. was with us for the first time since 1917. His work with the missions band of the Oblates has carried him into all parts of the country. On occasions he has been located in Buffalo, Washington and presently is here in Boston at the new headquarters on the Jamaicaaway. The long home run hits which accounted for the two runs scored by the Eagles against H.C. were reminiscent of Jim's contributions to B.C. baseball when he was at the Heights.

FR. FRANK CAFFREY, M.M. all the way from Los Angeles for the reunion enjoyed his first meeting with the class since 1917 also. He has been a frequent visitor in these parts and maintains a constant contact with the class but never has been able to meet the fellows in a group. FR. FRANK has become nationally known for his energetic labors for Maryknoll but in particular for his radio recordings of "Sunday in Hollywood".

PORKY FLYNN gathered about thirty of the class at Alumni Hall on April 29th for the annual meeting. This meeting brought out two of the class whom we have not seen often and who we hope will be with us more frequently. NICK PETROCELLI dropped in with his son, Joe, and had the junior member of the family meet "the best crowd one could ever be associated with". Thanks for the kind words, Nick. PETE McKENNA brought back many memories as he met many of the "boys" for the first time in forty years. We still think of him as a tough halfback but must now realize that over the years he has developed a keen legal mind. Join us again, Pete, it was wonderful seeing you.

MATT MEALY reports that son, Dick, has presented him with a grand-daughter, Nancy. It was a pleasure having you with us, Matt. Do it again.

JACK DOYLE is very much pleased with the response of the class to the Stadium Fund. He reports that he is waiting for some late returns and is confident that the class will make a very good showing. Jack also reports that his mother, who is living with him, is hale and hearty at 83.

MAURICE MURPHY has suffered the loss of his sister, Mrs. Buckley of Abington. The sympathy of the class is extended to the family. May she rest in peace.

'18 M. FRANCIS NOLAN 17 So. Normandy Avenue, Cambridge

Among those on hand for Alumni Day were FRANK GATELY, BILL CASHIN, CLARENCE GREENE and your correspondent.

Lest you forget, next year, 1958, we are the 40 Year Anniversary Class and we must have some meetings during the year to arrange for this event. We are open to suggestions as to time, place, date and nature of the get-togethers and if you will contact your correspondent he will be happy to follow through on the suggested plans.

Let's try for a 100% attendance at our anniversary reunions.

'19 FRANCIS J. ROLAND 10 Homewood Rd., West Roxbury

We dedicate class notes for this issue to the family of JIM HANLEY for the following: His son was graduated from Holy Cross (!) in June; his daughter, Anne, Manhattanville, '54 will be married in August; Jim received from the University of Rhode Island the honorary degree of Doctor of Education. The citation reads in part "In building educational quality into the schools of Providence you have done your city and your state great service. Your influence has reached beyond the bounds of Rhode Island to our neighboring New England States and into National councils".

JOE HOLDEN'S son, First Lt. Joseph Bennett Holden, '51, was married on April 6 at St. Ignatius Church, Chestnut Hill to Ann Elizabeth Mansfield of Newton. Lt. Holden is now stationed at Fort Riley, Kansas, as a pilot instructor with the 3rd Army Aviation Co.

'20 J. ROBERT BRAWLEY 33 Pomfret St., West Roxbury

On the evening of June 18, at the Jenkins Auditorium in Malden, a Testimonial Night was held in honor of our WILLIAM J. "DEMO" DEMPSEY. More than 500 people attended this tribute to "Demo" who was retiring after thirty-three years of service to the City of Malden. The Class of 1920 extends its congratulations to "Demo".

CHARLIE MCGILL of Bridgeport, Conn., has been appointed general chairman for the 40th reunion of the Class of 1920, and the class officers would appreciate any help in rounding up some of the long missing members. Anyone knowing the whereabouts of WILLIAM J. "JEFF" CONWAY, RAYMOND CHAMPAGNE, ED GERVAIS or JOHN SULLIVAN, please contact the class officers. While on this subject the class is indebted to GERRY O'NEIL for his help in locating several members.

'21 GORDON F. IRONS 9 Emmonsdale Rd., W. Roxbury

CHARLIE COYLE is now secretary of the Clover Club.

REV. ALFRED SHEEHAN has been appointed Parish Priest of St. Paul's Parish, Hingham.

Among those present on Alumni Day were JERRY MAHONEY, LINUS CALLEN, ARTHUR DONOVAN, BILL DOWLING, JOE DOYLE, JOE FLYNN, BOB FOY, GORDON IRONS, HENRY McINERNEY, and HUGH O'REGAN.

The sympathy of the Class is extended to the family of our beloved classmate, HON. JOHN J. BURNS, who passed away May 11. The solemn high requiem Mass was sung by Archbishop Cushing in St. Joseph's Church, Belmont. The following members of the Class were among the honorary pallbearers: JERRY MAHONEY, CHARLIE COYLE, JOE DOYLE, BOB FOY, FRANK HANNON, GORDON IRONS, JACK MAHONEY, MARK RUSSO, and HON. JOHN J. SULLIVAN.

At a recent meeting of the Boston School Committee, your reporter was appointed a member of the Board of Examiners, effective Sept. 1.

JERRY MAHONEY'S son, Jerry, Jr., is on a trip to Europe. During the first three weeks in September, Young Jerry will take a special course in English literature at Oxford University.

Our thirty-fifth anniversary was an occasion of joy to members of the class. Under the aegis of Co-Chairmen JOHN NORTON and ARTHUR TIERNEY, we divided our observance into three distinct functions: The first a dinner and social evening at Alumni Hall where music of the roaring twenties inspired sheiks of thirty-five years ago to sheik once more . . . "Ja Da", "Bubbles", "Avalon", and the like brought us back to the days of bathtub gin and raccoon coats. Honors for the longest distance travelers went to CHARLEY TUCKER, who flew over from Rochester, N.Y., with Mrs. Tucker. Others on hand were MATT HEAPHY and his good wife; the LEN HEALYS; Ed and Helen BELL; BILL CANTY; all three COLLINSES and the wives of Charley and Jim; the DRUGANS—once of Wakefield but now of Providence; GENE FANNING and Mrs. Fanning, SQUIRE FOISY and his better half, Mr. and Mrs. HENRY FOLEY (among the better dancers of the evening), the KEARNSSES, all the way from Springfield; the McKIMS, the MAHANS, the ELBERYS, the FRED MORANS and JOHN NYHANS, the PRIORS, the TURNBULLS, the DUFFLYS, and Mrs. JOHN WHITE. Clergy on hand were PRESIDENT MONSIGNOR DOYLE, and FATHERS LEO FLYNN and LEONARD McMAHON.

The spiritual side of the observance was joyful in an anniversary Mass celebrated by MONSIGNOR DOYLE in St. Mary's Chapel. Father Maxwell, on the altar, gave an inspiring word of greeting to the class. Breakfast was served in Lyons Hall with much the same attendance as the social, although wives and children of departed members were prominent. New faces included MRS. FRANK CARRON, JOSEPH FORD and his fine family; the SHEEHANS and two sons; Mrs. DUDLEY TENNEY and her daughters, Mrs. Frank Flynn, Mary Consodine; the VELARDOS, and several other ladies.

The anniversary luncheon, on the day of the best BC-HC game in years, again found many of the same loyal classmates, but several new faces attended the day's celebration. Some of these were CHARLES McNAMEE, MATT MALLOY, the Springfield twins—WALTER GRAHAM and GEORGE KEEFE, EDWARD MADDEN, FATHER THOMAS SWEENEY, and LAURENCE CURTIN. All in all our thirty-fifth was a happy and joyous occasion.

Sympathy of the class is extended to DR. JAMES MEEHAN whose wife passed away in June.

On a happier note we announce the engagement of Constance Ann TENNEY, daughter of DUDLEY, to William T. Burke, '53.

Congratulations to JOHN KELLEY on his 20 years as librarian of the City of Somerville. John is the third generation of Kelleys who have served Somerville over a period of 80 years. He is very active in city affairs, being a member of the board of directors of several banks and hospitals.

Also, congratulations to REV. THOMAS M. HERLIHY, S.J. on the 25th anniversary of his ordination. A huge testimonial dinner was given to Father Herlihy at Blinstrub's Village, at which throngs of parishioners were present. Many '22 men joined in to honor our classmate. Archbishop Cushing presided at the commemoration Mass and preached the sermon. Father Herlihy has been pastor of St. Ignatius Church, Chestnut Hill, for 16 years.

'24 ANTHONY E. LEBLANC 45 Maynard St., Arlington ARTHUR C. MURPHY, of 46 Old Colony Road, Weston, is a trader for A.

C. Allyn & Co., Inc., of 30 Federal St., Boston.

REV. GEORGE W. CORCORAN who was ordained May 21, 1932 celebrated his 25th Anniversary this past May. He is now on the faculty of St. Joseph's College on the shores of Lake Sebago at North Sebago, Maine.

'25 EDWARD J. O'LEARY 22 Bailey Road, Arlington

The class was well represented at Alumni Day; and nostalgia was rampant when groups clustered and the talk invariably reverted back to the 'kids' — the adult kind — and their whereabouts. Does it seem too long ago when the mothers of the same delinks were discussing the feeding problems?

DR. JIM CONWAY'S son is graduating from Cardinal O'Connell Seminary to enter St. John's Seminary this fall. Jim's daughter has completed her second year at the Marist convent in Bedford.

GENE GIROUX' eldest and his namesake is not only a fellow alumnus but also a recent graduate of the law school. AL HYLAND'S namesake is entering the sophomore class at the Heights . . . as is TREF MALONEY'S.

ANTHONY JULIAN, our U. S. Attorney, has been appointed to the highly important post of Director of the Massachusetts Educational Corporation, an organization created to assist deserving students unable to pay for advanced education to obtain necessary financial grants.

GEORGE VERDE is now serving as Suffolk Court Auditor for the hearing of motor vehicle and other tort cases under appointment by the Chief Justice of the Superior Court. Counsel tell us that George is doing a great job in this important assignment.

GENE GIROUX is quite happy at the fine class of cooperation in the Stadium Fund Drive. He urges all to remember that if there are any who have not made their contribution to promptly send their checks to the Alumni Office. Those who have been thoughtful are importuned to see if an additional donation might be forthcoming.

Got a card from PETE McDERMOTT all the way from Texas where he was attending a conference of the American Society of Training Directors, last May. They met at Fort Worth. Pete is living on South Street in Roslindale.

Got a real belt out of the Commencement Exercises at the Garden in June. Our graduating class would have been lost among the great number of new alumni. Anna May DOOLEY, JOHN'S oldest girl, was graduated along with sons and daughters of more classmates than I can accurately report. Anna May was co-chairman of Commencement Week activities as was my Bill. She is engaged to be married. JOE DRISCOLL'S oldest boy Frank, joined the Alumni as did FRANK GREELISH'S son.

Young Driscoll, married and with one child, Karen, was a physics major and made the National Honor Society of Physics. Joe himself is still at the Newton Highlands P. O. and has three other children, two girls Caroline and Joan, who are both being married in the Fall, and Joe, Junior, who is an accountant. Horace's boy plans to do post graduate work, studying to be a veterinarian.

At the Archbishop Cushing College graduation I met BILL LYONS, bigger than ever and still the pipe smoker. His god-child was graduated along with Bill Junior's fiancée.

At Alumni Day we again enjoyed a good time. We were DR. BOB O'DOHERTY'S guests after the interesting, exciting ball game. Some day it might be arranged that we beat Holy Cross on Alumni Day. As has been happening in recent years we over stayed our visit with Dr. Bob, and lost out on the food on the Campus. We wound up at FRANK TALLINO'S Restaurant at Chestnut Hill. We had the whole upper floor along with about 25 other B.C. grads, a most pleasant evening, and I am afraid that I will never understand why so many of you fellows miss affairs like these.

FATHER DAVE DUNIGAN, S.J. spoke at the Catholic Book Fair at the Catholic Center Hall in Woburn, during the spring. His subject was "The College Boy at the Bookstore". Fr. Dave has a doctorate from Fordham, and has contributed many articles to leading educational magazines.

FR. FRANK CORCORAN, S.J., Rector of Shadowbrook, was the Commencement speaker at Burlington, Vermont's Trinity College. Earlier in the year, he had been guest speaker at the annual breakfast of the St. Mary's Rosary Society in Pittsfield, Mass. He is, of course, very occupied with the rebuilding of the Novitiate so tragically destroyed by fire two years ago.

A gathering of 165, including class members, their wives and children, attended the Memorial Mass and Communion Breakfast that marked the thirtieth anniversary of the graduation of the Class of 1927. Mass was said by Fr. JOE McCALL. Chairman JOE McKENNEY introduced special guests, Rev. Fr. Rector and Fr. Martin Harney, S.J.

On Alumni Day, forty of the faithful assembled to take their places with the Five Year Classes in the march to the ball field. Attired in Brown derbies and Bermuda shorts, each man leading by a leash a house-broken shellbacked armadillo, the group made a fetching sight and evoked well-bred murmurs of approval.

The Thirtieth Anniversary Yearbook was distributed early in June. The statistics of the professions listed show that businessmen predominate with the religious and the educators tied for second place. Among the married men the average number of children per family is 2.7. At least thirty-five men served in the Armed Forces during World War II.

Congratulations are in order to the following classmates who have been made pastors; REV. JAMES DUNFORD, St. Cecilia's Church, Ashland; REV. JOHN B. WELCH, Church of the Resurrection, Hingham.

JOHN "REVERE" SULLIVAN is now a Captain in the U.S. Naval Reserve.

REV. BERNARD FIEKERS, S.J. attended the April meeting of the American Chemical Society in Miami and served on the important Education Committee.

We felicitate the following men who recently celebrated the Twenty-Fifth Anniversary of their ordination: REV. JOHN BOWEN, REV. CORNELIUS BUCKLEY, REV. JOHN CONNOR, REV. LEO CUNNINGHAM, REV. ROBERT HILTON, REV. JAMES MAGENIS, REV. JOSEPH McCALL, REV. JAMES NORMILE, REV. JOHN REYNOLDS.

Le Moyne College, Syracuse, N.Y., recently awarded the honorary degree of Doctor of Humane Letters to REV. DANIEL LINEHAN, S.J.

REV. THOMAS TIERNEY is known as Quincy's "marching priest" because of his fine work in the organization of the city's annual Christmas Parade, Historic Parade, and Easter Parade.

The Class extends its sympathy to JOE ALECKNA on the loss of his mother and to GUS WHELAN on the loss of his brother, Tom Whelan of Lynn.

MARTIN GRIFFIN traveled from Long Island, N.Y. with his family to be at the May Communion Breakfast. Marty is Senior Service Engineer with the N.Y. Telephone Co.

GEORGE HORWOOD, the Lawrence Welk of 1927, is still leading his popular orchestra on the social circuit. Between engagements he heads the English Department of the Medford public schools.

Profile of DAN MacISAAC . . . married . . . father of two boys and two girls . . . studied Aeronautics at M.I.T. . . . entered flight training U.S. Navy, 1928 . . . served in Navy from 1928 until 1953 . . . retired as Captain. . . in World War II served in various theaters of Pacific on board carriers Bunker Hill, Saratoga, Essex, and Lexington . . . cited by the Secretary of the Navy . . . last duty before retiring, Executive Officer, Naval Air Station, New Orleans . . . member Army and Navy Club, Washington, D.C. . . present address, Juniper Lane, Wayland, Mass.

JOE ROTTL, formerly with A.S.C.A.P., is now in business on his own. Joe spent two years in New Caledonia and the Philippines during World War II.

DR. DAN O'LEARY was recently observed burning up the fairways at Bass River Golf Club. JOHN LYNCH, pedagogue at Boston Trade School, is now living in Milton with his wife and two children. FRANK X. SULLIVAN, associate director of Adult Education in the Boston Schools, visits the Boston summer schools daily supervising activities and looking for four-ball companions. Mr. Sullivan is a four handicap man at George Wright's Country Club.

JACK BUCKLEY'S oldest boy, Dan, B.C. 1956, is sweating out boot training at Fort Jackson, South Carolina.

Extra copies of the Thirtieth Anniversary Yearbook are available. Write to your correspondent.

Silver Jubilees in the priesthood were celebrated by several of our classmates recently: REV. WILLIAM FINN, St. Patrick's, Lawrence; REV. ERNEST FORD, St. Mary's Cambridge; REV. FRANCIS GREENE, Sacred Heart, Quincy; REV. EDWARD HORAN, P.P., St. Paul's, Wellesley; REV. JOHN LANE, St. Charles, Woburn; REV. LEO McCANN, A.P.O., New York; REV. ELIAS MEALEY, St. James, Salem; REV. LAWRENCE RYAN, St. Brendan's, Dorchester; REV. GERARD SHEA, P.P., St. Catherine's, Charlestown; REV. FRANCIS SHEA, St. Anne's, W. Bridgewater.

Testimonials and receptions were given to each by their parishioners and friends.

CAPT. "BUD" MASON, U.S.N., is stationed in Washington and is now living at 2906 Oklahoma Rd., Willow Grove, Pa.

MURRAY PAGE is now working as a Field Auditor with the State Department of Public Welfare.

Sympathy of the Class is extended to "PAT" McDONOUGH on the death of his brother George.

Anne K. PLOCIENNIK was the recipient of an award contributed by Mrs. Vincent P. Roberts, an honorary member of the Class of '28", given annually to an outstanding woman student of the School of Education. Anne graduates in '58—the 30th anniversary of graduation of her father "GENE".

A testimonial dinner was held in May in honor of REV. "BILL" THOMPSON, former director of Catholic Welfare Bureau and St. Mary's Home in New Bedford. Father Thompson is now pastor of St. Mary's Church, Norton, Mass. The affair was held at Lincoln Park, Dartmouth, Mass. Mr. Herman Lamark, Labor Relations Director of Swank, Inc., was toastmaster.

Many members of the Class attended Alumni Day festivities—our 29th anniversary.

ARTHUR DOWNEY and JOHN McGILLIVRAY came up from the Island for this occasion—John is Superintendent and Arthur is Head Social Worker. Also present were the following: MORRIS DOWNEY, Director of Adult Education, Boston; ED SILK, "the thin man", State Dept. of Public Welfare; JACK "Laundry Fixtures" HUGHES from Medford; JACK DOHERTY, Supervisor of Appeals, when out of work, F.U.S.D.; CONNIE O'DONNELL, Headman, Credit Bureau, Lowell; Faithful MIKE GILARDE, Professor, Boston Schools; HONORABLE FRED McMENIMEN, "Spoke to me 4 times"; JIM DUFFY, The Braintree Squire, Sales manager W. H. Brine Company, Franklin St., Athletic Goods—took pictures; DICK CONDON, "the Veep"; "BUNK" DRISCOLL, Vice-Pres. Middlesex National Bank and Yours truly, "Hop-a-long" DOYLE.

Special honors were bestowed on DAN DRISCOLL—the Bill McKenney Award for the outstanding alumnus. I thought Dan, in his acceptance speech was going to outdo his climatic speech as Chairman of our 25th Anniversary. But he was under wraps—forewarned. Dan is the second member of the Class to receive the McKenney Award — "SNOOKS" KELLEY was the recipient in 1953.

Another member of the Class—WALLACE CARROLL, received an honorary degree from the College on Commencement Day,—flew in from Washington especially for it. Tried to make contact with him for a little get-together.

"PAT" TOMPKINS, Massachusetts Commission of Public Welfare, has been especially busy these days—up before the Legislature and in continuous contact with Washington on special Federal Aid Bill that would mean millions of dollars savings to the State. Representative John McCormack is spear-heading the Bill.

OWEN DOOLEY, lawyer, is now located at Congress Street, Boston. Besides playing championship golf, Owen does lovely work in photography—a new hobby.

Definite plans are being made for a reunion in the Fall—stag. Plans and Committees will be formulated for our celebration of our 30th anniversary in June, 1958.

Your correspondent is progressing rapidly after his injury; still have a brace and cane.

Will see you around,—happy vacationing,—drive carefully,—relax and take it easy.

Best of luck to Bill Flynn, '39 and John Curley, '13 on their new assignments.

After the Alumni Day celebration at the Heights members of the Class of 1931 went over to the next hilltop to St. Sebastian's with MSGR. FLANIGAN host, as so often before. This time DICK FITZPATRICK had a chance to surprise the Monsignor with a bon voyage gift from his classmates who wished him a happy trip to Europe, the highlight of which is the ordination in Rome of the first of HIS boys.

Also visiting in Europe this summer are EDDIE and Eleanor AARON with JOHN and Teresa DiVENUTI.

The 25th Anniversary has come and gone with the greatest success. Heartfelt thanks to the many classmates who helped put it across with a bang — PRESIDENT ED GALLAGHER, "RED" REARDON, MONSIGNOR JIM COTTER, JOHN COLLINS, FELIX ALBANO, FRAN CURTIN, JERRY KELLY, ED HURLEY, JOHN ROWLINSON and many others.

The night before get-together with our wives present was well attended and about 100 classmates showed up for Alumni Day. Following a Mass on the lawn of Alumni Hall, the class met for lunch with our beloved president Father Maxwell, S.J., and the general Alumni president John Griffin addressed us. Then we preceded to Commonwealth Avenue and led the Parade of Classes assisted by the Mass. National Guard (thanks to COL. RALPH NOONAN) to Alumni Field to watch the B.C. - H.C. ballgame.

After the game we attended dinner with the general Alumni and then held our own get-together in the room assigned to the class. The greatest class of all parted after having the greatest day we ever held at the college and all promised to be back next year to carry on the old tradition.

Congratulations to HARRY DOWNES who was elected for a three year term on the Graduate Athletic Board.

Also to JOHN G. PATTEN who was named assistant vice-president, freight sales and service for the New York Central Railroad at Boston, and to DANIEL J. Our Twenty-fifth Anniversary year program was launched with appropriate eclat on May 4 with a buffet and dance at Alumni Hall, participated in by more than eighty husbands and wives. Off to a slow start by reason of a belated bartender, the party soon got a glow on under the nostalgic influence of '33 music purveyed by PAUL "Green Door" CALLEN and his rhapsodic colleagues. High spots of the "cool" evening were a familiar solo by HENRY "Rubber Legs" FITZGERALD and an explosive Charleston duet by Mrs. LUKE RODDY and "FLASH" MURDOCK. The general approval and enthusiasm of those in attendance augur well for the success of our next event soon to be announced.

On the familiar principle of better late than never, our official and sincere congratulations to HENRY FITZGERALD on the birth of his newest son, now a year old.

Congratulations, also, to FR. FRANK CURRAN on his appointment as pastor of St. Margaret Mary parish in Keene New Hampshire.

Our deepest sympathy is extended to BILL SULLIVAN on the death of his mother and to BOB GRANEY on the death of his father. May they rest in peace.

We are pleased to learn that EDDIE MCCRENSKY, who is Director of Civilian Personnel and Services Division of the Office of Naval Research in Washington, has been awarded the Rockefeller Public Services Award Fellowship. He will study the role of the civil service scientist in Great Britain, France and Germany.

We're glad you came to the Class Reunion — and to those who didn't come — plan on coming to the next one, for it was a treat to see so many fellows back at the Heights. Thanks to the efforts of the Class Officers, the day was well organized and a good time was to be had. Special thanks to PAUL CLINTON and GEORGE BURKE for their Alumni Fund work (and it's not too late to send them a couple of dollars.)

We were seated at a fine luncheon with ED SUMPTER, DICK SCHWARTZ, EDDIE HEWITT, JOHN DINEEN and TIMMIE O'CONNELL. ED SUMPTER, a program director for the National Security Agency in Washington, came home on his vacation to attend the reunion. He said the wife and five children were all well and listed his B.C. associates from our class in the seat of government as including: HARRY SINNETT, JOHN O'CONNELL, BOB PARISH, ANDY RILEY and HUGH DONOHUE.

Affable ED HEWITT listed his recent endeavor as managing the Air-Way Bowling Alleys in Warwick, R.I. We enjoyed seeing BILL CRONIN, D.M.D. who is about to establish practice in West Roxbury. BOB COX, who is now with Boston Edison, was a welcome sight. Bob told me that RENE COTE M.D. had passed him on his way up Commonwealth Avenue.

Class politicians BOB QUINN and FRANK McGEE were holding court on the front steps of Lyons Hall when we came upon them. Heard that ATTY. JOHN DAVEY, the flying counsel for the appellant, is connected with the office of Theodore Glynn, '51, on Beacon street. We enjoyed some cheer with TOM FORD and WID DEVANEY and regretted they couldn't stay for the day.

Lest we go further and omit something, at this point we'd like to mention the weddings of classmates. FRANK DOOLEY has married Helen Marie Burke of Milton; MILES MURPHY has married Camille Costanza of Jamaica Plain; ARMAND BURWELL has married Maria Margaret Mahoney; JIM GALVIN was wed to Patricia Theresa

Moylan; JOHN SMITH has married the former Ann Marie Curran, and Tom McElroy was married to Regina McGee (Frank's sister). Tom and Regina were married by Tom's brother and our classmate, FR. JOHN McELROY.

And the engaged—JOHN COUGHLIN to Joan Marie Montgomery; LT. BERNIE RAEKE to Margaret Ann Gallagher; TOM DWANE to Barbara Ann Dowd; GEORGE CAMPBELL to Mary A. Pagliazzo; ART FORCIER to Shirley Jennifer Twist of Bridlington, England; JOHN MITCHELL to Gail Elaine O'Brien and STAN CURLEY to Theresa Shaw of Washington, D. C. (Stan is doing Doctoral Study at Catholic University). Have we missed anyone?

Names in the news—ED SHEEHAN, home from foreign assignments as a news correspondent, has been lecturing locally; ART FORCIER is doing grad work at B.U. on his return from Merton College (Oxford University, England); JOE MIETT has been promoted to section chief, Industrial Relations Dept. of Western Electric; GERRY SWANSON is teaching Math in Weymouth; DR. JOHN RICCI (Psychologist) has been appointed to the Executive Committee on Children and Youth by the Governor of Wisconsin, and ERNIE MAZZONE is teaching at the Junior High in Woburn (he received a nice plug from the newspaper up that-a-way). MIKE ROARKE is waiting out his opportunity to join the Braves, having seen duty with the Chicago Cubs and the White Sox.

And now to our correspondent from "down the Hill."

To those of you who were unable to put in an appearance at our 5th Anniversary Reunion, I McGee: Should like to report that a number of your classmates gathered together on June 8th to discuss some of the pressing problems of the day. Shortly after the conclusion of the Alumni Mass, John Buckley (of Yuletide fame) informed us that he had gone to great expense in securing a speaker for the class luncheon. The speaker was the Rev. Francis E. McManus, S.J. of Boston College, who as you probably know, has earned himself a widely acclaimed reputation in the fields of "Time" and "Motion". Father McManus spoke informally, as is his custom, and highlighted recent developments at the College. As a matter of fact, the guest speaker's talk was so informal that at times a dialogue took place between himself and anyone who happened to open the door by mistake or otherwise. Immediately after the luncheon our group adjourned to the steps of Lyons Hall where, between urgings of "put that bottle down" and "take the butt out of your mouth," the photographer took our 5th anniversary picture. At this juncture we were advised that the class parade was then in progress and that we were to fall in to the rear. All along the line of march I heard many comments concerning the class's marching decor and esprit de corps, but perhaps the most accurate was uttered as we entered Alumni Field when one wag remarked that we very much resembled a Chinese fire drill. After the excitement of the parade subsided, we all sat down and viewed the annual Holy Cross-B.C. ball game. Between innings I discovered that JACK DONOVAN, his wife and two children are now living in Pittsburgh, Pa. Jack is still in the employ of Firestone . . . BILL HEAVEY was married in June to Lucita Guzman with LEX BLOOD and DICK McCABE serving as ushers and TIM O'CONNELL serving as best man . . . class treasurer, PAUL CLINTON and family all very healthy and Paul doing well with Dewey & Almy . . . TONY and Joyce GARGANO with their two children are now living in Akron, Ohio . . . JIM DOYLE and family in New Jersey. He is with Minnesota Mining. . . JOHN KASTBERG and Miss Kathleen O'Connell were married in April . . . NICK GALLINARO and Inez Hanken of Iowa were married on July 27th (I'll hold a seat for you on the "823", Nick) . . . JACK MURRAY is now in Ohio . . . at this point because of impending rain a small group, including myself, adjourned to the bar where I learned that JACK HEFFERNAN of All State, New York, is being transferred to Boston . . . NICK LOSCOCCO is with John Hancock of Boston . . . JOHN FITZGERALD is with Babbitt of Boston . . . JOE LATUATA is the father of twins . . . JACK VINCHESI is also with John Hancock in Boston . . . JIM KENNEALY caught me buying a "Bud" . . . JACK LEARY engaged to marry TOM O'CONNELL'S sister, Ellen. Jack is with R. I. Tel. & Tel. . . Jack and I eased the strain of march, by the way, as we shared a beer along the parade route . . . other news items . . . BRUCE DESROSIERS and Gertrude McDonnell of Cambridge were married on July 20th . . . Bruce has completed his studies for a M. Ed. degree at Boston Teachers College . . . BILL DILLON and Miss Jane Cosart of Washington, D. C. were married on June 15 in London . . . CHARLIE DeIORIO and Miss Ann Cook of Chelsea announced their engagement . . . Miss Theresa Dunn and JOE O'LAUGHLIN announced their engagement last June . . . Joe graduated from the Harvard Business School in June . . . To JOHN BUCKLEY go our prayers for his success at St. John's Seminary . . . DICK FLANAGAN of Chestnut Hill has been appointed a Foreign Service Officer in the Diplomatic Corps of the State Department. He is presently in Washington, D. C., but will be assigned later to an overseas post. THOMAS O'CONNELL is with Ford Co., in Dearborn, Michigan. His address there is 3745 Campbell Street . . . Well that is about it for now . . . some seventeen hours after I had arrived at University Heights I began to weave my way home with my brother-in-law, T. D. McELROY . . . little did we know that the biggest explosion was yet to come . . . for those of you who might be interested, my new address is The Office of the Judge Advocate General, Dept. of the Army, The Pentagon, Washington 25, D. C. . . my new duties call for representing the United States in appeals brought before the Army Boards of Review and the United States Court of Military Appeals in cases arising under the Uniform Court of Military Justice. . .

Heading the long list of notes for the class of 1953 is the married and engaged column. First on the docket is TOM LALLY who married Nancy Berge out in Westwood. Ginny O'Brien and JACK CAHILL were married on June 15. ED HUGHES and Mary Garrity exchanged marriage vows not long ago in Northfield. Ed is now a senior at Georgetown Medical School. Dan recently received his Master's degree in organic chem. ART VAUTRAIN and Alice Walsh another Mr. and Mrs. Constance Tenney and BILL BURKE will soon be Mr. and Mrs.

Here is some other news of note: JOHN KEANEY won a Sheldon Traveling Fellowship from Harvard University where he received his doctorate in June. These fellowships are among the highest honors awarded in the graduate schools. John will travel in Europe and will make a study of the writings of the philosophical schools of 4th century B.C. Athens.

Received DMD's in June: from Maryland University, GENE BELIVEAU, and from Tufts, GENE FREDEY, BOB O'DONNELL, MORTON PREMAN, JOHN REICHEL, JOHN F. SULLIVAN and JOE SWIRBALUS.

Winning M.D. degrees from Tufts, DON AKIKIE, GEORGE JOHN, TOM KENNEDY, LEONARD SKAIST and GENE SWEENEY. Congratulations to all.

JACK TOPPA recently resigned as head coach of Woonsocket High to take over the position of assistant coach at Rogers High; JACK McKINNON will take over at Woonsocket as the grid mentor; BOB COTE was recently named head coach of the grid squad at St. Louis High, Biddeford, Maine. He is also baseball and basketball coach there; TONY SAPIENZE, now teaching at Southbridge High has added another championship to his splendid record. This one was for the National AAU Junior 20 Kilometer race.

JOE O'BRIEN has been appointed to the staff of the Boston brokerage agency of Connecticut General Life Insurance Co. He and his wife make their home at 147 Woodland Road, North Hampton, N. H. We note a change of address for ED DUGAN from Los Angeles to 5628 Olive Avenue, Lakewood, California. The Dugans have two children.

We were delighted to receive an announcement from PAUL F. TWITCHELL and his wife on the birth of twin daughters on April 3—Katherine Theresa and Nancy Ellen. The babies' maternal grandfather is James L. O'Brien, class correspondent for 1916. One more A & S note which I think is important. This is from Philadelphia. A girl by the name of Betty Bender said yes to FRANK KELLEY (that's me). We plan to be married on December 28, then to Bermuda and back to Philly where I am now working with IBM.

PAUL SHIELD, CBA, was married recently to Elaine Fleming, and they are now living on Loudon Road, Concord, N. H. Paul is with B. F. Goodrich Co.

TECH. SGT. LEONEL NERON, a teacher in the Mattapoisett schools has been nominated "Airman of the Year". He was commended for "outstanding leadership and instructing ability" and is the only airman in his squadron who served as a flight commander.

'54 JOHN J. CURTIN, JR.

This is an anniversary! Three re-leaved class trees now extend beyond our own memorial on the border of College Road. The times seem ripe for reminiscences. Many members of the class have been taking advantage of their opportunity to do just that.

An excellent crowd, too numerous to name, attended our first full-dress business meeting since graduation. Entertainment in the form of movies was also provided but the best entertainment was the opportunity to talk all night with old friends in the convivial atmosphere of Alumni Hall. It was a little disappointing that more couldn't attend the Alumni Day festivities. A swell program including a great ball game was presented. Let's make next year's Alumni Day a gala event in preparation for our fifth anniversary the following year.

Speaking of class reunions, the B. C. High Class of '50 held a reunion which many of the Class of '54 attended. More reunions are planned, so if you are a member of that gre-e-e-at class and were not contacted, send your address to the Alumni Director at the new B. C. High on Morrissey Blvd., Dorchester.

PAUL MURPHY, our freshman class president was at the high school reunion and says he's going back to the books in the fall to Harvard's Littauer Center of Public Administration. PAUL SALLY has a fellowship at Brandeis University where he will be a candidate for his Ph.D. in Mathematics.

Some of our other classmates, working or in the service, with whom we talked, included JACK DRISCOLL, VIN TARKKEY, FRANK O'LEARY—all the way from Washington—the state that is, BOB LITTLE, DOUG MacMILLAN and JIM KELLEY.

It seemed impossible three years ago but some of us sat through another graduation this year. The Class of '57 of B. C. Law had many of our classmates in its ranks. This one, at the Boston Garden, must have been one of the shortest on record. Remember June, 1954! Most of us even have jobs.

JIM KELLEY, BILL CAREY and JACK CURTIN are heading for Washington, D. C. Jim will work with the Federal Trade Commission; Bill and Jack were selected for the Attorney General's Honor Law Graduate Program on the basis of nation-wide competition. Bill will be in Internal Security and Jack will be in the Anti-Trust Division. JOE McDONNELL who studied for his Master's degree concurrently with his legal training will finish his studies in Philosophy at the Heights in the fall and is apparently the first member of our class to return to B. C. as a member of the faculty, teaching Logic and Epistemology. As we go to press, a bulletin informs us that BOB WELTS has been admitted to the New Hampshire Bar. Massachusetts results won't be known

Happy Landings to DON SULLIVAN, '55, who has won the hand of Carol Ann Rossetti of Weymouth.

We are indebted to President Paul P. Kane, '49, Boston College Club of Cincinnati for the news item in the Catholic Telegraph-Register of June 7 concerning DR. GILBERT C. LOZIER, '47. As his thesis for the D.Ed. confirmed on him by Xavier University where he is assistant professor of Education and Philosophy, Dr. Lozier translated from Latin, Father Joseph Jouvancy's RATIO DISCENDI ET DOCENDI (Method of Learning and of Teaching) which was written in 1691 and became the standard for the Jesuit schools in 1703. It is the first translation into English of the famed educational guide book. Dr. Lozier has a master's degree from Laval University. He is married and has two children.

Your officers are in the process of planning activities for the coming social year. Your valued suggestions will be gratefully received by president, ROBERT M. REILLY, 126 Elmwood Ave., Wollaston, 70, Mass.
